

The Links at the Divi conducts their first annual Christmas Charity Golf Tournament

Fun and fundraising was the motivation behind the golf tournament held at The Links at the Divi on Saturday afternoon, December 10. A 12:30 shotgun start sent thirty-five golfers in four-man teams around the course in a pleasant afternoon sponsored by The Links in conjunction with Aruba Bank, which helped to raise thirty-five hundred dollars for the Stichting Casa Cuna.

At the award dinner around the new Infinity Pool at the Divi Village Golf and Beach Resort, golfer enjoyed a delicious buffet with open grill from the Divi Culinary Team, and received great prizes like cruises donated by DePalm Tours, and dinner for two at the Sunset Beach Bistro in the Divi Phoenix Resort. Brandishing a beautiful pair of earrings was Ladies' Closest to the Pin winner Eleanor van Haarlem, and Ladies' Longest Drive winner Carol Habibe will take a cruise with a guest.

Men's Closest to the Pin was Harold Hagens, and the male golfer honored for making the Longest Drive was James Kiley. The first place team with a score of fifty-one was MEM Consultancy, N.V. and the second place team was The Mulligans with a score of fifty-two.

As The Links head golf pro Adam Williamson said, the biggest prize went to Casa Cuna Center, which cares for young children from troubled homes. The $3500 raised by the golf tournament was matched by Aruba Bank, bringing the total check awarded to the center to $7000, and bank representative Shanouille Bikker, Marketing Manager was present to assist in handing over the check. Michael Boswell, representing Starcon in the tournament, also donated an additional $500 to Casa Cuna, on the behalf of the company. Golf Pro Adam expressed great satisfaction for the response to the first Annual Christmas Charity Gold Tournament at The Links, and said they expect to do even better next year.
